PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR LEAVE TO AMEND AND FOR PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION

COME NOW John Robert Smith, Shirley Hall and Gene Walker, and file their Motion for Leave to Amend and for Preliminary Injunction pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 65, and in support thereof would show the following:

- 1. Pursuant to Uniform Local Rule 7.2(H) urgent and necessitous treatment of this matter is requested. This Court's urgent action is needed to protect the integrity of the 2002 elections for the United States House of Representatives.
- 2. By order of December 13, 2001, in In re: Mauldin, No. 2001-M-01891, the Supreme Court of Mississippi changed Mississippi law to permit a congressional redistricting plan to be adopted by the Chancery for the First Judicial District of Hinds County, Mississippi, instead of by the Legislature. On December 14, 2001, the Chancery Court began trial in the case of Branch v. Clark, No. G-2001-1777 W/4, in which the Intervenors in this Court have asked the Chancery Court to "issue an injunction adopting and directing the implementation of a congressional redistricting plan for the State of Mississippi." Because those events have an effect on the relief previously requested from this Court by plaintiffs, they respectfully move for leave to amend their complaint pursuant to Fed.R.Civ.P. 15. A copy of their proposed amended complaint is attached hereto and made a part hereof as Exhibit 1.

The Supreme Court's Order and the Judgment to be Entered by the Chancery Court are Changes in Mississippi Election Law and Must be Precleared Under § 5 of the Voting Rights Act.

3. Mississippi law has never given Chancery Courts in Mississippi jurisdiction to apportion congressional districts, even in the event the Legislature fails to do so. Such restrictions on the jurisdiction of the Chancery Court were set forth in Brumfield v. Brock, 169 Miss. 784, 142 So. 745 (1932), until the Supreme Court of Mississippi, without explanation, ruled to the contrary in its order in In re: Mauldin. Even so, the Chancery Court cannot redistrict Mississippi as long as a valid redistricting statute remains the law in Mississippi. Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-1039, which was "pre-cleared" by the United States Attorney General in 1986 and remains valid law in Mississippi, ¹ provides that:

¹The identical result is also mandated by 2 U.S.C. § 2a(c)(5). The reliance by Intervenors herein on Shayer v. Kirkpatrick, 541 F.Supp. 922, 926-27 (W.D.Mo. 1982), for the proposition that the at-large statute was implicitly repealed by the adoption of 2 U.S.C. § 2c in 1967 is misplaced. Another District Court harmonized the two statutes, holding that, although Congress generally intends elections to be held by district, "§ 2a(c)(5) provides emergency statutory relief from an otherwise unconstitutional situation." Carstens v. Lamm, 543 F.Supp. 68, 77-78 (D.Colo. 1982). The historical discussion upon which Intervenors rely in Whitcomb v. Chavis,

Should an election of representatives in congress occur after the number of representatives to which the state is entitled shall be changed, in consequence of a new apportionment being made by congress, and before districts shall have been changed to conform to the new apportionment, the representatives shall be chosen as follows; . . . and if the number of representatives shall be diminished, then the whole number shall be chosen by the electors of the state at large.

4. This Court is well aware that Mississippi cannot change any aspect of its election laws without receiving preclearance from federal authorities required by § 5 of the Voting Rights Act, 42 U.S.C. § 1973c. The scope of that provision is quite broad. The Supreme Court of the United States has held "that Congress intended to reach any state enactment which altered the election law of a covered State in even a minor way." Allen v. State Bd. of Elections, 393 U.S. 544, 566 (1969). In its regulation governing submissions under § 5, the Department of Justice gives the broadest possible scope to these terms:

Any change affecting voting, even though it appears to be minor or indirect, returns to a prior practice of procedure, ostensibly expands voting rights, or is designed to remove the elements that caused objection by the Attorney General to a prior submitted change, must meet the section 5 preclearance requirement.

H

28 C.F.R. § 51.12. Throughout Mississippi's history, the Legislature has undertaken the responsibility for congressional redistricting. The action taken by the Supreme Court constitutes a major alteration of election law in the State of Mississippi.

⁴⁰³ U.S. 124, 159 n.39 (1970), is plainly dictum, since that case involved state, not federal, elections.

- 5. If the Hinds County Chancery Court is permitted single-handedly to reapportion Mississippi congressional districts, this will certainly represent a change in election procedure and practice for Mississippi. Pursuant to § 5 of the Voting Rights Act, this change must be approved by federal authorities. A Mississippi chancellor has never before assumed this type of legislative function, and this extraordinary action requires this Court to enjoin all acts taken pursuant to the Supreme Court's order until such time as this new method of apportioning Mississippi has been approved pursuant to § 5.
- Transfer of authority from the Legislature to the Chancery Court has a direct relation to voting. The Department of Justice interprets this type of change as triggering § 5 preclearance. The Department of Justice's official position is that "[s]ome transfers of authority between government officials . . . clearly have a direct relation to voting if they concern authority over voting procedures, such as a change in who has authority to adopt a redistricting plan, conduct voter registration, or select polling place officials." See www.usdoj.gov/crt/voting /sec_5/types.htm (emphasis added). See, e.g., Foreman v. Dallas County, 521 U.S. 979 (1997). This sort of change is known as "enabling legislation," which is defined to include "[l]egislation authorizing counties, cities, school districts, or agencies or officials of the State to institute any of the changes described in § 51.13." 28 C.F.R. § 51.15(b)(1) (emphasis added). The judge presiding in the Chancery Court is an official of the State, and redistricting is a change described in 28 C.F.R. § 51.13(e).
- 7. In addition, any judgment entered by the Chancery Court purporting to impose a congressional redistricting plan itself constitutes a change from the previous plan set forth in Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-1037 (Rev. 2001), and from the at-large plan mandated by the Legislature in these circumstances under § 23-15-1039. That judgment itself cannot be enforced absent the approval of federal authorities under § 5 of the Voting Rights Act.

- 8. Pursuant to Lopez v. Monterey County, 519 U.S. 9, 23 (1996), this Court is required to do three things: (1) determine whether a covered voting change has occurred; (2) if so, whether preclearance has been obtained; and (3) if not, what relief by the court is appropriate. First, the Hinds County Chancery Court clearly will implement a change that is unprecedented in Mississippi history. Second, no preclearance has been obtained. Finally, the only appropriate relief is for enforcement of the Chancery Court judgment to be enjoined until that judgment and the Supreme Court's order purporting to vest it with authority have been approved pursuant to § 5.
- 9. The United States Supreme Court has held that a state court judgment or order concerning election laws are not binding on the rights of non-parties to that case and that federal courts should devise a remedy to enforce issues regarding § 5 of the Voting Rights Act. Hathorn v. Lovorn, 457 U.S. 255, 269-71 & n.23 (1982). Growe v. Emison, 507 U.S. 25 (1993), states the general rule that federal courts should defer to state courts adjudicating federal claims on redistricting matters. Intervenors, however, have presented no federal claims to the Chancery Court,² and Growe, in any event, involved Minnesota, which is not subject to § 5 of the Voting Rights Act. Hathorn, by contrast, is a Mississippi case in which the Supreme Court of the United States specifically held that Mississippi courts must defer to federal courts to craft interim relief where, as here, a change in election procedures has not been approved pursuant to § 5.

²A copy of their Amended Complaint in the Chancery Court is attached hereto and made a part hereof as Exhibit 2.

10. In this case, the proper interim relief is for this Court to enjoin all actions to be taken pursuant to the Supreme Court's order and any judgment the Chancery Court may enter until such time, if any, as they have both been approved by federal authorities pursuant to § 5 of the Voting Rights Act.

The Chancery Court's Action is in Violation of Article I, § 4 of the United States Constitution.

11. Judicial control of congressional redistricting in Mississippi is barred not only by federal statutes, but also by the United States Constitution. Article I, § 4 of the United States Constitution provides, "The Times, Places and Manner of Holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof" In Smiley v. Holm, 285 U.S. 355 (1932), the Supreme Court of the United States held that a governor could nevertheless veto a redistricting bill passed by the Legislature because executive veto was an accepted part of legislative practice in the thirteen original states in 1787. There is, however, no federal decision that considers whether a state court may impose a redistricting plan where the Legislature has failed to exercise the power conferred upon it by the United States Constitution.

12. The Supreme Court of the United States considered, but did not resolve, an analogous issue in Bush v. Gore, 121 S.Ct. 525 (2000). Article II, § 1 delegates a similar power to state legislatures, providing that presidential electors shall be appointed by each state "in such Manner as the Legislature thereof may direct." The three concurring justices concluded that the Supreme Court of Florida, in devising its own rules for counting votes for electors, had usurped authority delegated by the Constitution to the Florida Legislature. Id., at 533-39 (Rehnquist, C.J., concurring). By the same analysis, the Chancery Court's imposition of a redistricting plan would usurp authority delegated by the Constitution to the Mississippi Legislature.

13. For the Chancery Court to disregard the legislative declaration in § 23-15-1039 and to devise its own congressional redistricting plan would plainly violate the Constitution. For these reasons, then, federal law precludes the courts of this state from devising a new reapportionment plan, whether or not such a plan receives federal approval under § 5 of the Voting Rights Act.

The Chancery Court Action Violates Due Process.

14. The Chancery Court's Amended Scheduling Order did not provide the parties ample opportunity for discovery as is required by Miss. R. Civ. P. 40(a). The Chancery Court did not honor the parties' absolute right to twenty (20) days' notice of trial as is required by Miss. R. Civ. P. 40(b). The Chancery Court basically ignored all of the rules dealing with discovery. The parties had exactly 48 hours to propound discovery, receive responses, designate experts and prepare for trial.

15. As a practical matter, because the Chancery Court's action was not intended or anticipated by the Legislature, Mississippi law provides no guidelines which the Chancery Court can follow as it undertakes this most important task. Further, the Mississippi Rules of Civil Procedure, which act to protect the integrity of the judicial system, have been superseded because of the Chancery Court's expedited schedule. Defendants Clark, Moore, and Musgrove have failed to defend against Intervenors' claims in Chancery Court since the issuance of the Supreme Court's order. Private citizens who have intervened in that action cannot properly represent the interests of these plaintiffs or all citizens of the State of Mississippi, particularly since they have had no meaningful opportunity to prepare for trial and since Mississippi law provides no notice of the legal standards which the Chancery Court may choose to enforce. Under these circumstances, enforcement of any judgment issued by the Chancery Court to the prejudice of the voting rights of these plaintiffs would deprive them of liberty without due process of the law.

16. The decision of the state courts cannot be binding on these plaintiffs, who were not parties to that proceeding. Even where an election plan has been approved by the highest court of a state, that plan can be invalidated by a district court where, as here, a plaintiff has not had a full and fair opportunity to litigate. Johnson v. DeGrandy 512 U.S. 997, 1004-06 (1994).

Relief

- 17. There is a substantial likelihood, and, in fact, it is certain, that plaintiffs will prevail on the merits, as the Mississippi judicial proceedings have received no federal approval under § 5 of the Voting Rights Act.
- 18. There is a substantial threat that plaintiffs will suffer irreparable injury if this injunction is not granted. The Mississippi Supreme Court has stated that an election schedule that violates the state election code is adverse to the public interest. Adams County Election Comm'n v. Sanders, 586 So.2d 829, 832 (Miss. 1991).
- 19. The threatened injury to the plaintiffs here outweighs the threatened harm the injunction might do to the defendants, as defendants will have the opportunity to present their ideas on a redistricting plan with this Court.
- 20. The granting of this injunction will serve the public interest by permitting compliance with the election schedule, as explained in Adams County.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs respectfully move the following:

- 1. That this Court permit the filing of the proposed Amended Complaint;
- 2. That this Court enjoin permanently the defendants, their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, servants, successors in office, and all persons in active concert or participation with them from conducting any election using the current districting plan, as codified at Miss. Code Ann. § 25-15-1037;
- 3. That this Court permanently enjoin the defendants, their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, servants, successors in office, and all persons in active concert or participation with them from administering, enforcing, or being bound by the enforcement of the order of the Supreme Court of Mississippi of December 13, 2001, in In re: Mauldin;
- 4. That this Court permanently enjoin the defendants, their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, servants, successors in office, and all persons in active concert or participation with them from conducting any election using any plan to be set forth in the judgment to be entered by the Chancery Court in Branch v. Clark;
- 5. That this Court permanently enjoin the Intervenors, their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, servants, successors in office, and all persons in active concert or participation with them from attempting in any way to enforce the judgment to be entered in Branch v. Clark;
- 6. That the Court will find that the proper remedy in this case, pursuant to federal and Mississippi law, is that the congressional representatives will be chosen by the electors of the state-at-large, pursuant to Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-1039 and 2 U.S.C. § 2a(c)(5);

7. In the alternative, should this Court find that the proper remedy is not an at-large election under 2 U.S.C. § 2a(c)(5) and Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-1039, that the Court should devise a new, constitutional districting plan.

AMENDED COMPLAINT

COME NOW the Plaintiffs, John Robert Smith, Shirley Hall, and Gene Walker, and bring this action to enforce voting rights guaranteed to them by the United States Constitution and federal law. The United States Constitution in Article I, Section 2, requires that a census be undertaken every ten (10) years specifically for the purpose of adjusting the number of congressional seats to which each state is entitled. The recently released census data showing that a decrease in population in Mississippi has required a reduction in the number of congressional districts from five (5) to four (4). The current redistricting plan, which divides the state into five congressional districts, thus, may no longer be enforced under federal law. The State of Mississippi as of the date and time of the filing of this Amended Complaint has failed validly to adopt a new redistricting plan, and any plan subsequently adopted cannot be enforced until it has been approved under § 5 of the Voting Rights Act, 42 U.S.C. § 1973c. The qualifying deadline for candidacy for the United States House of Representatives is March 1, 2002. Any postponement of that filing date necessitated by the lack of an enforceable redistricting plan would contravene the express directive of the Mississippi Supreme Court, which has held that an election schedule which violates the state election code is adverse to the public interest, and would itself require approval under 42 U.S.C. § 1973c. Therefore, the plaintiffs in this action, as registered voters in the State of Mississippi, are seeking injunctive relief to ensure that the State of Mississippi has a constitutional redistricting plan in place in time to comply with the filing deadline for congressional elections in Mississippi.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. This Court has original jurisdiction of this action, and plaintiffs have the right to bring suit under 28 U.S.C. § 1331, which provides:

The district courts shall have original jurisdiction of all civil actions arising under the constitution, laws or treaties of the United States.

- 2. This Court also has jurisdiction over this matter under 28 U.S.C. § 1343(a)(3) and (4), which provides for jurisdiction over the following civil action:
 - (3) To redress the deprivation, under color of any State law, statute, ordinance, regulation, custom or usage, of any right, privilege or immunity secured by the Constitution of the United States or by any Act of Congress providing for equal rights of citizens or of all persons within the jurisdiction of the United States;
 - (4) To recover damages or to secure equitable or other relief under any Act of Congress providing for the protection of civil rights, including the right to vote.
- 3. This case requires convocation of a three-judge federal court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2284, which provides:

- (a) A district court of three judges shall be convened when otherwise required by act of Congress or when an action is filed challenging the constitutionality of the apportionment of congressional districts or the apportionment of any statewide legislative body.
- 4. Venue is proper in this district under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b), which provides as follows:
 - (b) A civil action wherein jurisdiction is not found solely on diversity of citizenship may, except as otherwise provided by law, be brought only in (1) a judicial district where any defendant resides, if all defendants reside in the same state, (2) a judicial district in which a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claim occurred, or a substantial part of the property that is the subject of the action is situated, or (3) a judicial district in which any defendant may be found, if there is no district in which the action may otherwise be brought.

PARTIES

- 5. The Plaintiffs are JOHN ROBERT SMITH, an adult resident citizen and registered voter of Lauderdale County, Mississippi; SHIRLEY HALL, an adult resident citizen and registered voter of Rankin County, Mississippi; and GENE WALKER, an adult resident citizen and registered voter of Scott County, Mississippi.
- 6. Defendants Eric Clark, Mike Moore, and Ronnie Musgrove of citizens of the United States of America and of the State of Mississippi; each is sued in his official capacity. Defendant Eric Clark is the Secretary of State of Mississippi. Defendant Mike Moore is the Attorney General of Mississippi. Defendant Ronnie Musgrove is the Governor of Mississippi. These three defendants compose the State Board of Election Commissioners of the State of Mississippi. Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-211(1). As such, they are responsible for implementing and enforcing Mississippi's election laws in general elections.

- 7. Defendants Mississippi Republican Executive Committee and Mississippi Democratic Executive Committee are unincorporated associations elected pursuant to the laws of the State of Mississippi. They are responsible for implementing and enforcing Mississippi's election laws in primary elections. They are sued in their official capacities.
- 7A. Beatrice Branch, Rims Barber, L.C. Dorsey, David Rule, James Woodard, Joseph P. Hudson, and Robert Norvel were permitted to intervene in this action by this Court's order entered December 5, 2001. Neither this Court's order or Intervenors' motion specified the capacity in which Intervenors were permitted to intervene. Intervenors are considered here as defendants because the Amended Complaint seeks relief against them.

BASIS OF CLAIMS

- 8. The United States Constitution in Article I, Section 2, requires that a census be taken every ten (10) years specifically for the purpose of adjusting the number of congressional seats to which each state is entitled.
- 9. Article I, Section 2 of the United States Constitution, as amended by Section 2 of the Fourteenth Amendment, provides in part that "the House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year of the people of the several states" and that "representatives shall be apportioned among the several states according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each state" U. S. Constitution, Article I, Section 2; U. S. Constitution, Amend. XIV, Section 2.
- 10. The Secretary of Commerce has reported to the President of the United States the tabulation of population for each of the fifty (50) states, including the State of Mississippi, as determined in the 2000 Decennial Census. Those population figures show Mississippi's total population to have declined since the 1990 Decennial Census.

- 11. As a result of the decrease in population, Mississippi is now allotted only four (4) seats in the U. S. House of Representatives. The enforcement of the current plan, set forth in Miss Code Ann. § 25-15-1037, by the defendants, acting under color of state law, would deprive plaintiffs of rights secured under the Constitution and law of the United States, in violation of 42 U.S.C. § 1983.
- 12. Article I, Section 4 of the United States Constitution provides, "The Times, Places, and Manner of Holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof" The Legislature met in special session on November 1, 2001, to adopt a redistricting plan, but failed to do so.
- 13. Mississippi law requires that qualification of candidates running for Congress in the 2002 elections occur by March 1, 2002. Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-299. The Mississippi Supreme Court has said that an election schedule which violates the state election code is adverse to the public interest. Adams County Election Comm'n v. Sanders, 586 So.2d 829, 832 (Miss. 1991).
- 14. This qualifying deadline, which has been approved pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1973c and cannot be changed without similar approval, is threatened by the fact that the Legislature has not adopted a new redistricting plan. The interest of the plaintiffs and all Mississippi voters are prejudiced unless the State validly adopts a plan in time for it to be approved pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1973c in advance of the March 1, 2002, qualifying deadline.
- 15. Under § 5 of the Voting Rights Act, the State of Mississippi must obtain approval by appropriate federal authorities whenever it "shall enact or seek to administer any voting qualification or prerequisite to voting, or standard, practice, or procedure with respect to voting different from that in force or effect on November 1, 1964." On November 1, 1964, and at all times thereafter through the date of filing of the Complaint in this action, certain procedures were in force in the State of Mississippi with regard to congressional redistricting. First, consistent with Article I, Section 4 of the Constitution, the Mississippi Legislature had always adopted by statute plans for conducting congressional elections in Mississippi. Second, as declared by Brumfield v. Brock, 169 Miss. 784, 142 So. 745 (1932), the Chancery Courts of Mississippi had no power or jurisdiction to devise congressional redistricting plans of their own or to interfere with statutes adopted by the Legislature for that purpose. Third, the Legislature had provided by statute that, "if the number of representatives be diminished, then the whole number shall be chosen by the electors of the state at large." Miss. Code § 3306 (1942), readopted by 1986 Miss. Gen. Laws ch. 495, § 308, codified at Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-1039 (Rev. 2001). The readoption of this provision in 1986 was approved by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to § 5 of the Voting Rights Act.

16. On October 15, 2001, Intervenors herein filed a complaint against defendants Clark, Moore, and Musgrove in the Chancery Court of the First Judicial District of Hinds County, Mississippi, bearing the caption Branch v. Clark, No. G-2001-1777 W/4, wherein they asked the Court to "issue an injunction adopting and directing the implementation of a congressional redistricting plan for the State of Mississippi." Defendants Clark, Moore, and Musgrove, together with other petitioners, sought a writ of prohibition in the Supreme Court of Mississippi challenging the Chancery Court's jurisdiction to adjudicate the complaint and to grant the requested relief. On December 13, 2001, the Supreme Court of Mississippi denied relief and issued an order in In re: Mauldin, No. 2001-M-01891, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof as Exhibit A. That order found "that the Hinds County Chancery Court had jurisdiction of this matter," and further ordered, "Any congressional redistricting plan adopted by the chancery court in cause no. G-2001-1777 W/4 will remain in effect, subject to any congressional redistricting plan which may be timely adopted by the Legislature." The Supreme Court's order constitutes enabling legislation within the meaning of 28 C.F.R. § 51.15 and therefore constitutes a change in a voting qualification or prerequisite to voting, standard, practice, or procedure which must be, but has not been, approved by federal authorities pursuant to § 5 of the Voting Rights Act.

Court of the First Judicial District of Hinds County began a trial in Branch v. Clark on December 14, 2001. At noon on the day before trial began, the Intervenors in this Court first disclosed the contents of the relief they were seeking from the Chancery Court. A copy of Intervenors' redistricting plan, together with the data they submitted to the Chancery Court in its support, is attached hereto and made a part hereof as Exhibit B.¹ Intervenors' expert testified at trial that she had been asked to draw a plan in which the percentage of Gore voters from the 2000 election would reach the high fifties in District 2 and the low forties in District 3. By contrast, a federal court "must draw a redistricting plan according to 'neutral districting factors,' including, inter alia, compactness, contiguity, and respecting county and municipal boundaries." Balderas v. Texas, No. 6:01CV158 (E.D.Tex. Nov. 14, 2001), slip op. at 5. The terms of any judgment to be entered by the Chancery Court will constitute a voting qualification or prerequisite to voting, or standard, practice, or procedure which must be but has not been approved by federal authorities pursuant to § 5 of the Voting Rights Act.

- 18. Since the issuance of the Supreme Court's order, defendants Clark, Moore, and Musgrove have presented no further defense against Intervenors' claims in the Chancery Court. The interests of plaintiffs and other Mississippians have therefore been unrepresented in this purported adversary proceeding conducted before a judge elected from one-quarter of one county. Although certain private individuals intervened in an attempt to provide adversity, the Chancery Court denied them due process and a meaningful opportunity to participate in the hearing by commencing the trial less than one full day after the Intervenors revealed their requested plan. A copy of the Amended Scheduling Order of December 7, 2001, pursuant to which the trial has been conducted is attached hereto and made a part hereof as Exhibit C. To enforce the result of such a trial so as to infringe these plaintiffs' right to vote would deprive them of liberty without due process of law.
- 19. Under Article I, Section 4 of the United States Constitution, only the Legislature or Congress can prescribe the manner of electing representatives. For a state court to purport to prescribe the manner of election as a matter of Mississippi law, particularly while disregarding Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-1039 and 2 U.S.C. § 2a(c)(5), both of which require representatives to be elected from the state at large, violates the plain terms of this constitutional provision.

NECESSITY OF INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

20. A controversy exists between the parties. Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law other than this action for injunctive relief. With the new district boundary lines remaining undetermined at this point, plaintiffs and other voters in Mississippi do not have fair notice of the 2002 district boundary lines. Candidates and their supporters will have insufficient time to prepare, and voters will not be able to consider and compare the various candidates for the full time approved by law. Therefore, plaintiffs will suffer irreparable injury as a result of the violations complained of, and that injury will continue unless declared unlawful and enjoined by this Court.

WHEREFORE, plaintiffs respectfully pray:

- 1. That this Court assume jurisdiction of this matter and immediately certify a three-judge court, pursuant to the provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 2284, and order a speedy hearing of this cause;
- 2. That this Court enjoin permanently the defendants, their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, servants, successors in office, and all persons in active concert or participation with them from conducting any election using the current districting plan, as codified at Miss. Code Ann. § 25-15-1037;
- 3. That this Court permanently enjoin the defendants, their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, servants, successors in office, and all persons in active concert or participation with them from administering, enforcing, or being bound by the enforcement of the order of the Supreme Court of Mississippi of December 13, 2001, in In re: Mauldin;
- 4. That this Court permanently enjoin the defendants, their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, servants, successors in office, and all persons in active concert or participation with them from conducting any election using any plan to be set forth in the judgment to be entered by the Chancery Court in Branch v. Clark;
- 5. That this Court permanently enjoin the Intervenors, their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, servants, successors in office, and all persons in active concert or participation with them from attempting in any way to enforce the judgment to be entered in Branch v. Clark;

6. That the Court will find that the proper remedy in this case, pursuant to federal and Mississippi law, is that the congressional representatives will be chosen by the electors of the state-at-large, pursuant to Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-1039 and 2 U.S.C. § 2a(c)(5);

7. In the alternative, should this Court find that the proper remedy is not an at-large election under 2 U.S.C. § 2a(c)(5) and Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-1039, that the Court should devise a new, constitutional districting plan;

8. That this Court expedite consideration of this matter and impose a remedy early enough so that the qualifying deadline of March 1, 2002, would not be postponed;

9. That this Court award plaintiffs their reasonable attorneys fees; and expenses pursuant to the Civil Rights Attorneys Fees Act, 42 U.S.C. § 1988; and

10. That the Court retain jurisdiction of this action and grant plaintiffs such other and further necessary or proper relief which may in the discretion of this Court be appropriate and equitable.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN ROBERT SMITH, SHIRLEY WALKER, and GENE WALKER

VS.

CAUSE NO. G-2001-1777 W/4

ERIC CLARK, Secretary of State of Mississippi; MIKE MOORE, Attorney General of Mississippi; and RONNIE MUSGROVE, Governor of Mississippi DEFENDANTS

AMENDED SCHEDULING ORDER

On December 3, 2001, this Court issued a scheduling order setting trial in this matter for January 14, 2002. on December 5, a three-judge panel of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Mississippi issued an order stating that "if it is not clear to this Court by January 7, 2002 that the State authorities can have a redistricting plan in place by March 1, we will assart our jurisdiction and proceed expeditiously to Plaintiffs' Motion Preliminary rule for Congressional Districts." Smith v. Clark, No. 3:01-CV-855WS (S.D. Miss. Order of Dec. 5, 2000). Although this Court believes that the December 3 scheduling order set out a reasonable time frame, it is useful to avoid a situation where the federal and state courts involved in the process of adopting redistricting plans at the same time. Therefore, the Court finds and orders that the parties comply with the following scheduling order which supersedes the orders of December 3 and 6, 2001:

- 1. All motions to add parties and motions to intervene and/or appear amicus curiae shall be filed by December 10, 2001.
- 2. A hearing will be held on December 11, 2001 at 2:30 p.m. before the Honorable Patricia D. Wise to consider any such motions, as well as any other matters raised by the parties. All parties are required to attend unless specifically excused by the Court.
- 3. All experts will be designated no later than 12:00 p.m. on December 13, 2001.
- 4. Given the nature of this litigation and after having considered Rule 26 of the Mississippi Rules of civil Procedure, all parties are encouraged to fully and expeditiously cooperate in discovery. All discovery shall be completed by December 13, 2001 at 1:00 p.m.
- 5. All proposed redistricting plans should be filed and exchanged by the parties and any amicus curiae no later that 12:00 p.m., December 13, 2001. In addition, the parties shall file and exchange a proposed list of witnesses and exhibits no later than 12:00 p.m. on December 13, 2001.
- 6. A pretrial status conference will be held on December 13, 2001 at 2:30 p.m. before the Honorable Patricia D. Wise. All parties are required to attend.
- 7. Trial of this matter shall take place on December 14, 2001 beginning at 9:30 a.m., Saturday, December 15, 2001, December 17, 18, 19, 2001.

- 8. The parties shall submit position papers and briefs for consideration no later than 11:00 a.m. on December 20, 2001.
- 9. The Court will attempt to adopt a plan no later than December 21, 2001 so that the State's chief legal officer can submit it for preclearance no later than December 28, 2001, and sooner if possible. All parties shall cooperate in assisting the State's chief legal officer so that the preclearance obligation can be fulfilled in a prompt and timely manner.
- and the lists of witnesses and exhibits shall be served on all parties by hand if possible, and if not by hand, by facsimile as well as by mail.

AMENDED COMPLAINT

This action for injunctive relief is brought to insure compliance with Mississippi law regarding the timing of congressional elections in the State of Mississippi.

1. Plaintiffs Beatrice Branch and Rims Barber are residents and registered voters of Hinds County, Mississippi and the presently existing Fourth Congressional District. David Rule and Melvin Horton are residents and registered voters of Holmes County, Mississippi and the presently existing Second Congressional District. Plaintiff James Woodard is a resident and registered voter of Webster County, Mississippi and the presently existing First Congressional District. He also is an elected Supervisor in Webster County. Plaintiff Joseph P. Hudson is a resident and registered voter of Harrison County, Mississippi and the presently existing Fifth Congressional District. Plaintiff Robert Norvel is a resident and registered voter of Jackson County, Mississippi and the presently existing Fifth Congressional District. He also is an elected supervisor in Jackson County. These plaintiffs have an interest in participating as voters in the regularly scheduled 2002 elections for members of Congress from the State of Mississippi. They also have an interest in insuring that the provisions of Mississippi law relating to the scheduling of those election are fully enforced.

- 2. Defendant Eric Clark is the Secretary of State of Mississippi. Defendant Mike Moore is the Attorney General of Mississippi. Defendant Ronnie Musgrove is the Governor of Mississippi. Pursuant to § 23-15-211(1) of the Mississippi Code, the three of them constitute the State Board of Election Commissioners of the State of Mississippi. As occupants of the offices they hold, and as members of the State Board of Election Commissioners, they are responsible for the implementation and enforcement of Mississippi's election laws. They are sued in their official capacities as occupants of the offices they hold and as members of the State Board of Election Commissioners.
- 3. Mississippi law requires that the first step in the decennial redistricting of congressional districts occur by December 3, 2001. Pursuant to § 5-3-123 and § 5-3-129 of the Mississippi Code, the Standing Joint Congressional Redistricting Committee of the Mississippi legislature must draw a congressional redistricting plan and present it to the legislature and governor no later than thirty days preceding the convening of the next regular session of the legislature after the publication of the results of the decennial census. The decennial census results were published in early 2001. The next regular session of the legislature convenes January 2, 2002. See Miss. Code § 5-1-7. Thus, the Committee's plan must be presented to the legislature and governor no later than thirty days prior to January 2, which is December 3, 2001.
- 4. Mississippi law requires that qualification of candidates running for Congress in the 2002 elections occur by March 1, 2002. See Miss. Code § 23-15-299. The new districting plan must be enacted well in advance of that time in order for the qualification to occur as scheduled.
- 5. As of the present time, the Joint Congressional Redistricting Committee has yet to adopt, recommend, or present a plan to the legislature and governor. The legislature has yet to adopt or implement a plan. Unless the legislature adopts a plan in time for it to be implemented in advance of the March 1 qualifying deadline, the interests of the plaintiffs and all Mississippi voters in enforcement of Mississippi's election laws will be compromised, and their rights under Mississippi law to participate in a congressional election process conducted in a timely manner will be violated.

6. This Court has jurisdiction of actions for injunctive relief of this type.

7. In the event the Committee fails to recommend, and the legislature fails to adopt, a congressional redistricting plan in a timely manner, it will be the duty of this Court to insure enforcement of the laws and to adopt and implement a congressional redistricting plan so that the plan can be in place in sufficient time for the candidate qualification and election process to go forward according to the schedule established by Mississippi law.

Accordingly, the plaintiffs request that this Court assume jurisdiction of this cause and further request that, in the event a congressional redistricting plan is not adopted by the legislature in a timely manner, this Court proceed to hold a hearing and issue an injunction adopting and directing the implementation of a congressional redistricting plan for the State of Mississippi that allows the candidate qualification and election process to go forward as required by Mississippi law. The plaintiffs also request any other relief to which they are entitled.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT B. McDUFF
